Announcement Comes As Surprise. Unskilled Labor Effected By Contemplated Slash.

Chicago, Ill., May 18.—Reduced freight and passenger rates are expected to follow a cut in the wages of railroad employees. The Railroad Labor Board will formally announce on June 1st, the amount of reductions in common labor, which it is understood, will be almost $400,000,000, effective July 1st. The announcements will be made in advance, it was declared, as the board wishes to give all lines an opportunity to file petitions for adjustment before the cut becomes effective.

Only unskilled labor is effected by the June 1st announcement, although the board's attitude is understood to include all classes of railroad labor. The June 1st cut is merely regarded as the beginning.

Williamson, W. Va., May 18.—The seething fury of Mattewan was quieted today when non-union miners, haunted by the vivid memory of Mattewan slaughters and the fate of other unorganized workers heeded a warning and left town. Sheriff Pinson was informed today, after an ultimatum had been delivered to the unorganized workers to vacate Mattewan before midnight. Non-union men crowded each other for space on departing trains. The mines at Mattewan were completely closed, and quiet reigned, according to Sheriff Pinson.

GERMAN-POLISH WAR NOW IMPENDS IN UPPER SILESIA

British Premier Stands Pat on Last Week's Talk.

U. S. GOVT. WILL KEEP HANDS OFF

Lloyd George Says The Other Nations Agree With Him.

Oppcin, Upper Silesia, May 18.—A German-Polish war impended today in Silesia. Minor engagements, with numerous dead, occurred between Polish forces and German irregulars, each side claiming the rich mining district.

Heavy fighting, which may be the start of a new European conflagration is expected hourly.

LLOYD GEORGE STANDS PAT

London, England, May 18.—Prime Minister Lloyd George, in a public statement today, again challenged the French procedure in the Upper Silesian controversy. He declared he still adhered to his statement made last week before the House of Commons, when he said the "Silesian situation endangered the peace of Europe, and that Germany had as much right as the Poles to invade Silesia."

He stated the French text has been impertinent in its criticism that if anyone disagreed with its views it would be fatal to any Entente. The Prime Minister declared that all nations who had come to France's aid during the war, agreed Poland had exceeded her rights.

U. S. HAS NO CONCERN

Washington, D. C., May 18.—Secretary of State Hughes is understood to have made it plain today to the Polish minister, that the United States has no concern in the settlement of the Upper Silesian questions. The American government regards this matter as a purely European one.

R. L. Livingston and sister Vivian accompanied by Mr. Hopler of Bartley, N. J., spent the week-end with the former's parents in East End battle.

FRANKLIN K. LANE DIES IN HOSPITAL

Rochester, Minn., May 18.—Succumbing to a sudden attack, Franklin K. Lane, Secretary of the Interior under Wilson's administration, died at St. Mary's Hospital here this morning. Showing steady improvements, according to physicians, since an operation performed here two weeks ago for gall stones and appendicitis, he had been gaining strength and was on the way to recovery.

However, at an early hour today, the attendant nurse noticed the action of his heart weakening and hurriedly called a physician. Word was sent to Mrs. Lane and his brother, George Lane. Franklin Lane did not respond to medical treatment, and passed away at six o'clock this morning, before Mrs. Lane could reach his bedside. He leaves two children, Franklin, Jr., of Chicago, and Mrs. Philip Kauffman, of Washington.

SENATOR POMERENE PROPOSES TO HOLD UP NAVAL PROGRAM

Washington, D. C., May 18.—Withdrawal of Administration opposition to Senator Borah's Disarmament proposals, has encouraged other disarmament advocates to bring up their proposals. It is expected the proposal will be ruled out on points of order.

Lloyd George Denies Attempt To Arrange Meeting With Irish.

London, England, May 18.—Prime Minister Lloyd George denied today that he had attempted arrangements for a private meeting with "President" DeValeri, of the Irish Republic. In an official denial he said the only advances he had made was a statement to Parliament, expressing a willingness to meet anyone qualified to represent the Irish.

This killed the hopes of the peace workers, who had looked for such a conference to effect an agreement between DeValeri and the British leader.

CHIEF JUSTICE OF SUPREME COURT REPORTED DYING

Washington, May 18.—Chief Justice of the Supreme Court Edward Becklin White, former Confederate soldier, one time Senator, and a member of the most powerful judicial body in the world long enough to see a generation of lawyers rise and pass, cannot recover from the effects of an operation, physicians say. He was taken to the hospital last Friday for an operation, which, in the case of a younger man, would have been considered a minor one.

Chief Justice White has been unconscious since 8 o'clock last night. Mrs. White remained at his bedside in an all night vigil, and Associate Chief Justice McKenna, remained until long after midnight.

THREE HUSBANDS SAID TO BE DEAD

Recently Married A Fourth. All Carried Insurance.

Honolulu, May 14.—Mrs. Lydia Southard told officials today she believed she was a typhoid carrier and that this explains the death of four of her five husbands. "I am innocent of any wrong doing," Mrs. Southard, a young and pretty woman, declared in an exclusive interview with the United Press. "All my husbands died of typhoid fever, and I can prove it."

Held on suspicion in the city jail here, Mrs. Southard at first maintained a steady silence. The woman, who caused her four husbands to insure their lives, gazed sternly at the stone wall when plied with questions, but later broke down and made this statement.

HONOLULU, Hawaiian Islands, May 13.—Precautions to prevent the suicide of Mrs. Lydia Southard, of Twin Falls, Idaho, held here as an alleged "Feminine Bluebeard," were taken here today by police, it was said, after they had received information which caused them to fear she would attempt to take her life. At the request of Mrs. Southard's fifth husband, Paul Southard, Chief Petty Officer on the U. S. S. "Monte-ey," authorities persisted in their refusal to permit Mrs. Southard to be interviewed.

LEON. CARAMELLA FOUND GUILTY ON GAMBLING CHARGE

Old Poker Game Raid Recalled. Jury Recommends Mercy.

The case of Commonwealth versus Leonard Caramella, served to recall and re-open the story surrounding the raid on a poker joint in a DuBois pool room several months ago. Patsy Caramella, his uncle Angelo Caramella and Joe Crusanin, entered pleas of guilty as to being proprietors of same. Patsy was fined $2,000 and given 30 days in jail, while the other two each paid a $250 fine.

Leonard Caramella, father of Patsy, was charged with being a partner in the game, but this he denied and elected to stand trial. His case was called yesterday morning. He was defended by Chase & Chase, while District Attorney Arnold conducted the prosecution. The defense contended that the old man was simply cashier at the pool room and barber shop, and took charge of the rake off the same as he handled the other receipts from the business. The poker joint earned about $2,000 in less than one month, according to the statement made by one of the witnesses.

Miss Della A. Owens, of Lawrence township, was one of the jurors. The jury returned a verdict 10:30 o'clock this morning in which they found the defendant guilty with a recommendation to mercy.

CASE TAKEN FROM JURY

Charles Schnarrs, the Weaverhurst young man, who was charged with statutory rape upon a 13 year old Fourth Ward girl, received a vindication when his case went to trial Tuesday morning. The prosecuting witness was placed upon the stand and when she was unable to remember any of the circumstances surrounding the alleged attack, District Attorney Arnold asked leave to withdraw the case from the jury, stating the witness was too vague and indefinite to warrant further procedure and a nolle pro was entered.

STATE POLICE ARREST TWO FOR HAULING BOOZE

Find Clever Device in Barrel Believed To Be For Purpose of Swindling Buyers.

Altoona State Police on Sunday morning last arrested Rafael Granes and Buck Ginning, both of Philadelphia, for transporting liquor for beverage purposes. The two men had what purported to be a barrel of whiskey on a one horse wagon. The men offered to buy their freedom and have also been indicted for attempted bribery.

In investigating the barrel of "liquor" the police discovered a cleverly constructed copper compartment running through the center of the barrel, the opening on the one side being such that by removing the stopper liquor could be siphoned out. A closer probe resulted in the finding of the great amount of water both above and below the copper compartment.

A length of brand new hose was found in the wagon.

It is the belief of the police that the men intended offering the prospective purchaser a "drink" through the tube. The man then would think the barrel contained all liquor and would make the purchase and get but a few qts. of real liquor and plenty of water. He could not "squel" nor could he bring prosecution against the men, as it would lay him open to prosecution.

STATE COLLEGE STEER FEEDING TEST CLOSED

The annual steer feeding experiment conducted by the animal husbandry department of the Pennsylvania State College has again demonstrated that the best returns are to be had from the use of large amounts of corn silage supplemented with corn stover and cottonseed meal or linseed oil meal. The 140-day experiment that extended through the winter months closed recently, and of the seven lots of steers receiving rations of this kind showed the most economical gain.

In one part of the test there were five lots of ten steers each. They were fed the standard feeds in varying amounts, the most costly gains coming from silage, stover, corn and cottonseed meal. Experiments were also conducted on two lots of medium and choice feeder steers, the medium feeders making the most economical gain. They were on similar ration excepting that the choice feeders received more corn silage per day. On both experiments the college lost from $22.10 to $43.79 per head, due to the great drop in market value since the steers were purchased last fall. Special exercises attended by upwards of one hundred Pennsylvania cattle feeders were held at the college at the close of the experiments. The tests will be made again next winter.

A special invitation is most cordially extended to all Missionary Societies of all the churches of Clearfield and vicinity.

Consistent Position.

"Have you always been able to maintain a consistent position in politics?" "There is one position," replied Senator Sorghum, "that I congratulate myself on having maintained very consistently, indeed. I have always managed to remain on the upper surface of a landslide."

Remarkable Book.

What is said to be the most curious book in the world is the property of the family of Prince de Ligne of France. It is neither printed nor written, the letters of the text being cut out of each folio on the finest vellum, then interlarded with blue paper, making it easy to read.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

"JOHN B." STILL GOING

The province of Ontario, Canada, the largest and wealthiest province in the dominion, has gone for prohibition by the overwhelming majority of 200,000. Three other Canadian provinces had preceded it, expelling liquor, and but three remain to vote on the question. There can be no doubt that Canada will soon follow America's example.

Then what a spectacle will be presented to the world when the entire temperate zone of a great continent casts out "the wine that mocks and the strong drink that rages."

BURY THE KNOCKER

"Oh, bury the knocker out in the woods in a beautiful hole in the ground, where the bumble-bee hums and the wood-pecker pecks, and the staddle bugs tumble around. He's really no good to the town, he's bummy and practically dead; yet he wants the whole earth, enclosed with a fence, and the stars that shine over his head. Then hustle him off to the hayrack and bury him there good and deep. Let him lie on his back with his toes sticking up and everlasting sleep. He's no good on earth; he's a Jonah, a pest to all decent folks. Since he's always troubled with living, we'll not miss him a bit when he croaks."

"ALL ABOARD" tonight and tomorrow night at the Driggs Theatre. Join the "boosters."

We are going to help these A. E. F. veterans "root" for their comrade in arms.

At a regular meeting of the Philadelphia Maneto Post, No. 270, American Legion, the following resolution was passed:

"Resolved, That, in view of the heroism between the war records of Georges Carpentier and William Harrison Dempsey, we, Philadelphia Maneto Post, No. 270, do hereby place ourselves on record as upholding in the coming fight the cause of the man who was our comrade in arms, Georges Carpentier."

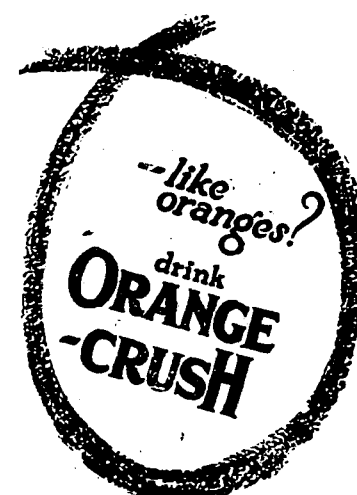

Keep your eye on the Frenchman.

The French will fight alright. Ask us, we know; we've been married to one for nigh onto thirty years.

A Vienna scientist has discovered, so he says, that the hidden soul of the average American is an amazing thing. We long have suspected as much and was ready to agree with the learned Herr Doctor. But when he went a bit further and said that our wealthy men are ashamed of their wealth, and ashamed of making or taking the money, we quit right there. He never saw the ghoully glee depicted on the countenance of a Clearfield barber when he separated us from 50 cents for cutting our hair.

For the benefit of any of our friends who may be inclined to bootleg a little, associate with bootleggers or deal in any of the products of the illicit still, we just want to observe that the Woner law, Pennsylvania's new liquor regulating bill, provides that any person who shall manufacture, sell, offer for sale, furnish, transport, import, export or possess any intoxicating liquor within the state for beverage purposes, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than $100 more than $5,000, or undergo an imprisonment of not more than three years, or both, at the direction of the court.

Value of Ashes.
There isn't any fertilizing value in coal ashes, as there is in wood ashes. Yet they are often a great help in improving heavy soils. Sift the ashes and get out the clinkers, and then spread or plow them into the ground. There's practically no danger of getting too much. If they contain some wood ashes, so much the better. Even a little sand worked into heavy soil will do much to make a better garden.

Bushman Men Laughed at Bell.
In 1877, when Dr. Alexander Graham Bell was endeavoring to interest capital in the telephone, he was asked what he thought of the future of the instrument, and he gave a pen picture of the exchange in every section and houses supplied with the instruments as they really are today, and he was laughed at heartily because he was so sanguine of the future.

Better Farm Buildings Pay

Your farm implements are expensive. Are you allowing them to become rusty and dilapidated because of a leaky roof? Your livestock is worth a lot of money to you. Are they properly housed? Is your hay and grain perfectly dry all the year 'round?

Altogether it is a mighty good plan to have your buildings in good condition. It generally means a saving. And with prices as high as they are you can't very well afford to abuse your implements or waste a lot of grain.

We carry everything in lumber and our prices are always fairly priced. Why not ask us to give you an estimate on the work you'll have to do. Stop in next time you are in town or phone and tell us what you want.

HOOVER TALKS TO RETAILERS

The public will benefit from the arrangement which Mr. Hoover, secretary of commerce, has made with representatives of the retail merchants of America for publication of retail prices, together with figures showing production costs, wholesale quotations and expense charges. It has been repeatedly since the decline in commodity quotations set in that a slump in wholesale prices frequently brought down the retail prices for the same articles little or none at all. The retailers excused their refusal to lower prices on the ground, sometimes that they had laid in their stock when wholesale quotations were high, or labor charges and overhead expenses were so great that it was necessary to maintain their product at the war level of prices if they were not to be forced out of business. Now we are to have a "showdown", and to be given an opportunity to decide for ourselves if these pleas are justified.

The retailers went to Washington to complain to Secretary Hoover that they had been unfairly charged with retarding the economic readjustment by failing to reduce their prices in conformity with the wholesale cuts, and their spokesmen made much the same plea as has here been outlined—that is, that in view of the heavy expenses, apart from the cost of goods, to which the retail merchants are subject, they have cut the prices as much as could possibly be expected. Mr. Hoover, fortunately for the public, was able to combat that statement by pointing out cases of the widest variation in retail prices for the same materials in the same city, and by showing that even after reducing quotations somewhat some retailers were making larger profits than when the goods cost more.

The outcome of this conference promises to have a vital bearing on the cost of living. With publication of figures showing the cost of the expense factors entering into the merchant's business, alongside the prices that he asks, a chance will be afforded to determine whether or not he is gouging his customers. Few shopkeepers will have the audacity to demand extortionate prices if they have reason to believe the prospective customers know that profiteering is being attempted.—Pittsburgh Post.

BACK TO THE FARM

Industrial depression and the unemployment situation is mainly responsible for an ever growing back to the farm movement, according to employment statistics, especially throughout the eastern and central part of the United States. When times are good, wages high, and work plentiful, the younger generation desert the farm for city life. But when hard times close on the crowded streets, they are only too glad to return to their three square meals a day under the old homestead roof.

In the present instance, while this movement has, to a large extent, eased the city employment situation considerably, it has at the same time aided the farmer at a time when the extra labor comes in handy during the spring plowing. According to Chicago reviews, the agricultural labor situation is easier now than it has been at any time in the three years just past.

In some farming sections of the country wages are still at a high mark, the downward trend being a future expectation. However, in the Central West, farm wages have tumbled riotously. Where the farmer was formerly obliged to compete with the big industrial plants in the matter of wages, he now has everything his own way. Former monthly rates to farm hands, in some cases as high as $80, with "everything found", have declined, until last week employment bureaus were sending men to the farms to labor at wages ranging from $35 to $50 a month.

On the other hand it is noted the farmers are demanding, and securing, experienced help. The city worker, with no farm experience, who tries to "hire out" on a farm these days is almost sure to meet with reverses. Unlike two years ago, when farmers were only too glad to get any kind of labor, they now can take their pick and choice on the market.

Crop statistics throughout the country are most optimistic. Although the acreage planted is under that of last year, it is estimated the staple crops will be normal. With the reduction in farm labor costs, the smaller acreage to tend, and the certainty of reduced production costs for fall crops American farmers look with hopeful eyes to the success of efforts being made to stabilize the ratio between the cost of raw material and finished product. With this one obstruction to increased effort toward better farming practice removed, it is believed the Fall Harvest will, in the main, prove a much more profitable one than that of 1920.

TWO OF A KIND

According to wireless announcements from Moscow, "Big Bill" Haywood is coming back to take his medicine. However, he put a string to his offer of returning by saying he will stay in Moscow, to attend the Third Internationale and other I. W. W. and Soviet conferences. Evidently he knows that once back in this country he will go where he can do no more harm to the principles of the Constitution, and is figuring on doing all the damage he can before he "voluntarily" goes behind the bars. In all probability he wishes to appear before his colleagues as a martyr, when in reality he knows this country would "get" him in the end.

It would be a pleasing announcement to many to know that Grover Bergdoll and "Big Bill" Haywood were coming back linked together with the same pair of handcuffs.

Little-Known Spot

A few miles west from the east branch of the Susquehanna is the West Roseland canyon. A good trail connects the two and a visit of any time to this area will be in the nature of a canyon trip, says the American Forestry Magazine in an article on "The Land of the Bear-tooth." A passable wagon road reaches Emerald Lake on West Roseland. It is a lake which deserves to be popular for here nature made a place which is naturally attractive. The scenic values are excellent, the fishing is good, and around the lake luscious mountain huckleberries grow in profusion.

RE-ADJUSTMENT

The re-adjustment of wages and prices in the steel industry has brought no marked improvement in the Pittsburgh district as yet. This is attributed to the fact that other lines of industry which consume large quantities of steel have not yet reached the calm levels which now characterize the steel industry. Leading manufacturers here believe that until the wage questions are settled by the railroads and the building trades, there can be no marked improvement in steel production.

It seemed to be about to start up again with something of a flourish, is now looked upon as an uncertain market, owing to the fact that a number of makers have announced material reductions in prices which has resulted in motor car buyers holding off in the anticipation of price war among manufacturers of cars. The automobile industry is buying steel in small quantities and is not stocking up. The railroads are not buying at all, excepting for absolute necessities, and the building trades are equally inactive, barring a momentary and seasonal briskness in the demand for nails.

Must Undergo Test

It doesn't take much to set us back from our acquired character to our original nature. Sometimes a long spell of sickness discovers to us what we really are, as compared with the fine creature we like to pretend we are. Starvation will bring old friends to the point of clutching each others' throats, and an excess of bodily fatigue may curdle the sweetest temper. Let us not hear that any human being has an angel character till he has been under some excruciating trial and has emerged with honor from the ordeal.—Exchange.

Scored on Ingersoll

Robert C. Ingersoll had social qualities which won him many friends, who, however, could not but deeply regret his published opinions. One day while in Beecher's study he saw a globe which greatly pleased his fancy. On its surface were raised figures of the heavenly bodies in very delicate workmanship. "I admire that," said Ingersoll, "who made it?" "Who made it, do you ask, colonel?" repeated Beecher. "Who made this globe? Why, nobody, of course—it just happened."—Boston Transcript

Baku Oil Fields

The oldest and best known oil fields near Baku are now on a bare, desert-like plateau a hundred feet or more above the Caspian sea. The oil sands are found at various depths. The pools are believed to be in lens-shaped pockets largely independent of each other. Gas pressure in many cases is very high. As a result gushers of great initial production are struck, but unlike the Mexican wells, the production is not long-lived. It is believed, however, that the oil pockets are numerous and that many are untapped.

Shares of Swift & Company are widely distributed. The map shows the number of shareholders in each state and has been dotted to indicate the proportionate distribution.

Who is Swift & Company?

Swift & Company is not a one man or one family affair. It is a company owned by more than 40,000 people scattered over the face of the globe—forty thousand shareholders with voting powers and a share in the risks and profits of the business.

Most of the forty thousand live here in the United States. But some of them live in France, some in England, others in the Philippines, Hawaii, Alaska.

13,000 of them are women.

Nearly 14,000 of them are employees.

The average individual holdings are small—about 37 shares apiece.

No one person or family owns a majority of the stock.

In fact, it would take 900 of the largest shareholders pooled together to vote 51 per cent of the stock!

These shareholders are the men and women whose money, in the form of capital, makes Swift & Company possible.

They are jealous of the character and reputation of their organization, proud of what it is doing, proud to have a part in supplying to the world such products as Swift's Premium Ham and Bacon, Brookfield Sausage, Silverleaf Brand Pure Lard, Wool Soap, Swift & Company's fresh meats, etc.

The executives of Swift & Company maintain the high standards of these products as an imperative duty not only to the 40,000 shareholders, but to the public.

WASHES WITHOUT RUBBING

Four Gainaday will wash everything washable. Put them into the roomy, zinc cylinder, press the button, and the Gainaday lifts, and dips and squeezes them until beautifully cleansed. All without work on your part.

The way to get the Gainaday is equally attractive. It is a plan so liberal it cannot help but reflect our confidence in it. Let us show you its fine points. —let us do a washing for you. The down-payment is only $5.00 and the monthly amounts can be distributed over a whole year, time enough to pay for itself.

ROBINSON'S CIRCUS
CARRIES A HOST OF PRETTY GIRLS

You don't have to go to the big musical productions nowadays to see beautiful show girls, for when the John Robinson circus comes to Clearfield on Friday, May 20th, there'll be girls aloft and girls on the stages and in the rings that will match the proudest beauty that ever stepped down stage in a Lucille gown. Take the Nelson sisters—six of 'em—count 'em—for instance. Here are young women who somersault in the fastest acrobatic act ever known, an act that has been acclaimed for four generations. One would expect them to be nearly perfect physically, but one would hardly expect to see their delicate beauty, which is that of avenue or tearoom, rather than of the outdoors. But the Nelson girls are debutantes, and the world knows that debutantes are adept in every outdoor sport these days. And there is Irene Montgomery, equestrienne and aerial marvel. Irene has a vivid, appealing beauty that registers at once with the people in the stands. She is known as the best dressed woman in show business, which does not exclude the stage. Not a bit of it. And among the two hundred other girl performers with the big show are all types of beauty—all garbed in really fetching costumes, turned out by the same modistes that dress the big musical shows. Times change with the circus, and nowhere is this fact so pronounced as in the costume of the circus girls.

Graduation Gifts

Giving a graduation gift is a simple matter but the selection should have the most painstaking care. We anticipated this sort of thing months ago and our showing of gifts for the graduate is one of wide variety and of enchanting beauty.

Then there's the utilitarian side—they're all useful. Hardly a gift but what can be used in some way to make the coming event one of the epoch marks in the graduate's life.

May we aid you in your selections?

MYERS-DAVIS

Alice E. Myers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Myers, of Woodland, and Charles Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Davis, of Clearfield, attended only by the latter's brother Harry, slipped down to the Presbyterian parsonage this morning and were united in marriage by Rev. E. C. Reeve.

Immediately after the ceremony the happy couple left on a wedding trip, taking the early morning train to Tyrone, enroute to Washington, D. C.

On their return they will take up their residence in the home all ready and waiting for them on Locust street.

Both have a host of friends here who wish them all the luck in the world. The groom is employed at the Clearfield Machine Shops.

Corned Beef.

The "corned" in "corned beef" comes from the verb "corn," which Webster defines as follows: "To preserve and season with salt in grains; to sprinkle with salt; to cure by salting; now, specifically, to salt lightly in brine or otherwise, as to corn beef."

CAN'T REMEMBER
FEELING BETTER

After Effects Of "Flu" Overcome And He Gains Twelve Pounds Taking Tanlac

"If there ever was a day in my life when I felt better than I do now, I can't remember it," said Thomas Barker, 402 Fairfield Avenue, Johnstown, Pennsylvania, well known window display man for Nathan Brothers, in relating his experience with Tanlac.

"Although it's been about three years since I had influenza, I've just now gotten my strength back, and besides relieving my troubles Tanlac has built me up twelve pounds in weight. I had a pretty bad case of the 'flu' and it left me without any appetite, even the sight of food would see me fill me up at times and my nerves were in an awful condition. Nights I just lay awake rolling and tossing, and mornings I felt tired and run down. I kept losing weight, and my color was so bad that my friends began sympathizing with me.

"Well, it worried me no little to be in this fix, for I had pains all through my body, especially in my back, and at times I had severe headaches and dizzy spells. Nothing I tried helped me until I got Tanlac, but the very first bottle of this medicine seemed to go right after my troubles and now I'm in fine condition in every way. I eat three hearty meals every day, sleep well and never have an ache or pain of any kind. Tanlac certainly put an end to my troubles in short order."

THE EFFICIENT WOMAN

We hear a great deal nowadays about the efficiency of women. In the novels of fifty years ago, who ever heard a woman praised for her executive ability, force and energy, in the sense that it is used today? The frail, delicate, helpless ideal of womanhood has passed away. How is it possible to measure up to the ideals of modern womanhood? In the first place, we must keep our bodies in the best possible condition.

Thousands of women have succeeded through daily baths, exercise in the fresh air, and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at the first sign of female weakness.

LAST WORD IN SEAL SALE REPORT FOR 1920

Bradford is the banner country in Pennsylvania in the seal sale for 1920, having an average of 11.07 seals for each. Clearfield averaged 3.76 seals per capita. The average per capita for the state was 3.76 seals. This is less than four cents for each person, to eradicate a very serious plague. The local committee hopes to have a better report for 1921, and expects to make a great effort towards increasing the per capita sale. A greater number of Health Bonds were sold during the last seal sale. Most all of the business men buying a bond from denominations of from five to one hundred dollars.

The amount of seal sale for 1920 at the close of the campaign was about $44 short with the amount of 1919. In the contract with the State Association, if the amount of 1919 was not reached, 22 1/2 per cent had to be paid over to the State instead of 20 per cent. This shortage was made up by the Women's Club, and donations from E. W. Hess, S. C. Reed and Andrew Harwick. Some belated seal sale reports coming in brought the amount up to $1,962.61, a few dollars over the amount of 1919, which was $1,953.50. After the percentage and expenses were deducted a balance of $1,425.99 remained for work in Clearfield county.

One of the big items in the expenditures for this year is the rent for the dispensary, which will amount to $450. The matter of renting the room for the dispensary was given a great deal of thought and discussion and the Executive Board of the Woman's Club decided to try it for one year. In the two months that the dispensary has occupied the new building, the number of patients and visits are about double the number for the same two months in 1920.

Preventative work is the great aim of the Association and the local committee believe they are doing preventative work in furnishing milk to an undernourished child. The committee is working in conjunction with the State Department of Health and the relief cases are usually recommended by the State Tuberculosis doctor or nurse, Dr. Frantz and Miss Lingrin. The patients to whom the milk is supplied, if able, visits the dispensary regularly. If not able to go to the dispensary, they are visited by the nurse, Miss Lingrin.

The educational work in the schools throughout the county is carried on under the Modern Health Crusade, which is in charge of Mrs. Philip Reed, who has done excellent work along that line.

A Baby Clinic has been established at Surveyor and the committee helped to equip same and maintain it.

Following is a report of the expenditures from January 1st to April 1st:

Milk supplied to patients in Clearfield	$122.10
Milk supplied to patients in county	$7.21
Carefare of patients coming to Dispensary	11.01

COMPENSATION CASES TO BE HEARD THURSDAY

The following cases will be heard before Referee Gus M. Gleason on Thursday, May 18th, 1921, in the Court House at Clearfield, Pennsylvania:

Annie Wright versus Joseph A. Littman, at 10 a. m.

Lewis Wise versus S. J. Mountz, at 11:30 a. m.

COURT NOTES

The case of Commonwealth versus Albert Cassi, of Janesville, who was charged by Mrs. Charles Aramenti with assault and battery, attracted quite a bit of interest while being tried Monday and Tuesday. Mrs. Aramenti charged Cassi with slapping her and knocking her down on the streets of the village after calling her a "scab" because her husband was working at a mine considered unfair.

District Attorney Arnold was assisted in the prosecution by A. H. Woodward, while Chase & Chase handled the defense. The testimony was very much mixed up and the jury solved the problem by returning a verdict of not guilty and directing the prosecutrix to pay one-fourth the costs and the defendant to pay the other three-fourths.

Mrs. Bertha Crawford, of Hyde, the first woman to serve on a jury in criminal court in Clearfield county, was a member of this jury and agreed with the male members that the woman was not altogether blameless in the scrap.

The case of Com. vs. Charls, better known as "Denny" Luce, of DuBois, was called for trial following the ending of the Carnilla case. In this the defendant, a man of mature years, is charged with attempt to ravish a little 7 year old girl, whom he is alleged to have enticed into his plumbing shop on the promise of giving her some candy.

The prosecution is being conducted by District Attorney Arnold, while Miller & Hartwick have charge of the defense.

The alleged attempt was made on the afternoon of April 19th.

Health of Trees.
Just as with folks health is of the utmost importance in shade trees, and no agency is more potent in marring the appearance of these trees than insects, says the American Forestry Magazine of Washington. A defoliated or otherwise bedraggled shade tree is not only worse than none at all but, as a result of insect injury, it is a menace to the health or life of similar trees in the neighborhood.
